

Tropical style

You can enjoy a taste of the tropics in your own backyard no matter what the season

MOST OF US HAVE TO BE CONTENT WITH NOTHING more than fond memories of time spent lounging around the pool of our favourite tropical resort. For a lucky few, however, the best the tropics have to offer can be enjoyed in their own backyards — all year round.

Just take a long, lingering look at this amazing award-winning pool set amid a flourish of tropical foliage. Just imagine settling onto one of the underwater stools beneath the thatched canopy of the poolside bar and watching the water gently wash over the edge of the freeform pool.

Working in close collaboration with the homeowner, the pool was designed and built by Queensland's Majestic Pools & Landscapes to accommodate a family of five. Says Majestic's Andrew Jakovac: "This is a very relaxing space perfectly designed for hot afternoons or lazy weekends. There is a deep section of the pool designed for anybody who fancies jumping straight in, which is separated from the shallow end by a timber bridge. This bridge facilitates the easy flow from the house to the tennis court over the water and is evocative of taking a walk through a tropical park.

"There is also a timber pool house that provides an extra room for guests and a wet bar that serves as an entertainment area and connects the pool with the level of the tennis court — and all of it is set amid tropical gardens.

"A wide range of rainforest palms and natives was used in this project," adds Andrew. "Some we planted and some were already established."

Throughout, the emphasis is on natural materials, from the kwila timber walkways and decking to the random Helidon Sandstone paving used for the pool surrounds, which further reinforces the tropical ambience.

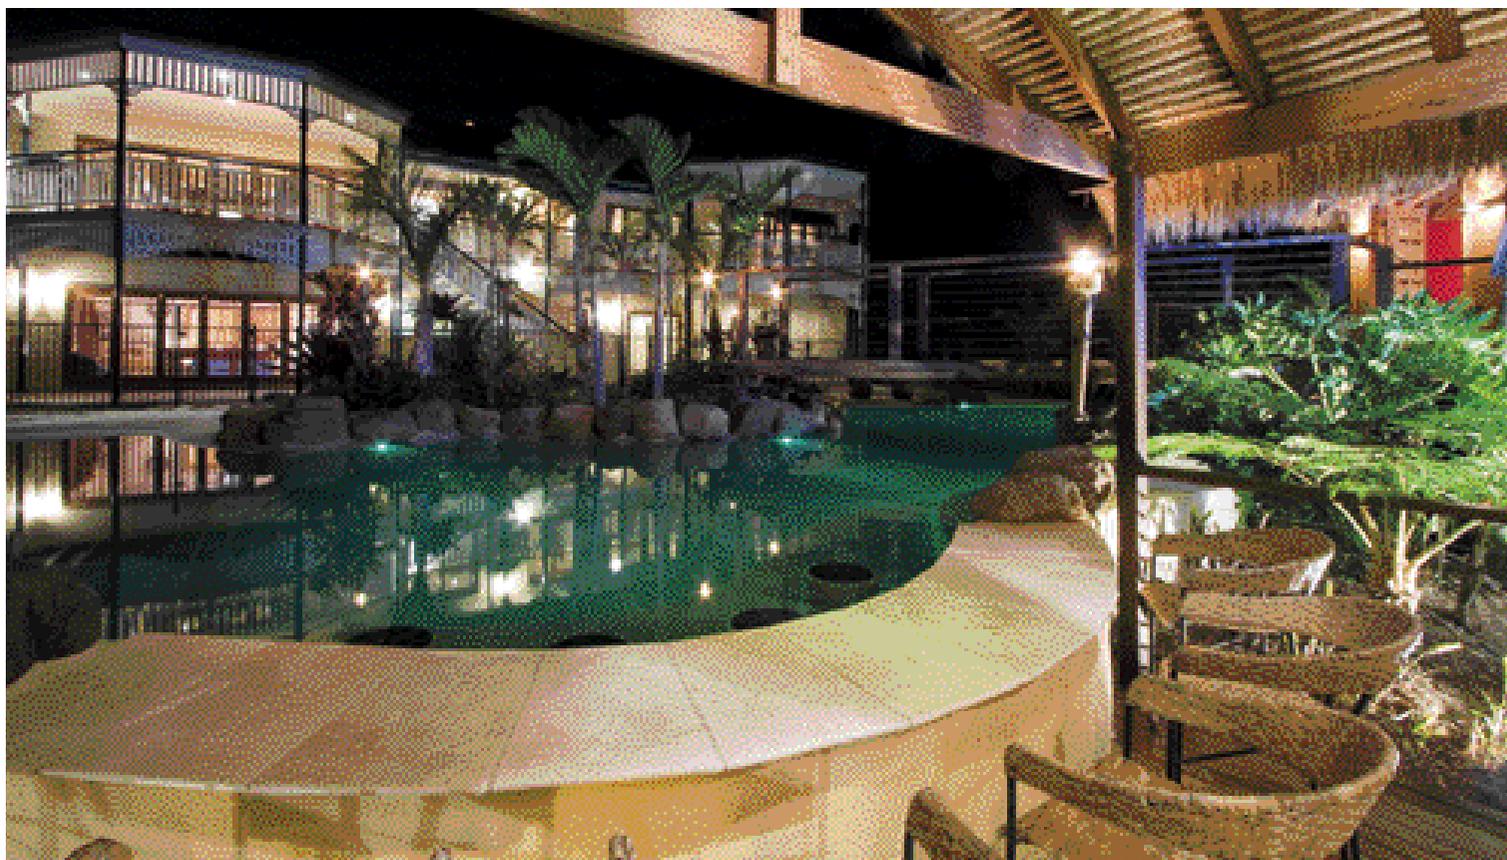

Clearly an impressive project, it has been the recipient of several awards. The most prestigious was the SPASA Queensland President's Choice award, which meant that the pool was featured on the cover of SPASA's Choosing Your Pool & Spa publication. It also won a Gold award in the SPASA

Queensland Freeform Natural Pool Over $30,001 category, a Silver award in the SPASA National Freeform Natural Pool Over $30,001 category and was showcased on Jamie Durie's popular television show, Australia's Best Backyards.
